

408 TAVLI DINING TABLE

By Matthew Hilton

Tavli is a solid wood dining table with a tabletop that features a decorative joint detail: each plank in the tabletop is shaped with an undulating edge, creating a continuous, repeating geometric pattern across the length of the table. Named after the backgammon tavli board, this table reimagines the decorative wood detailing of its namesake.

The table is available in a single timber for a more subtle detail, or a combination of two timbers to highlight the pattern.
